WASHINGTON [illegible]
[illegible]

It is generally understood that [illegible] Rollins [illegible] with the almost universal request of the Republican members of Congress relinquished his purpose of tendering an unconditional resignation and will abide by the resignation [illegible] the administration of his successor. He has been persuaded [illegible] by almost universal request of the Republican members of Congress and will probably remain in office until March. [illegible] what the [illegible] sends in a nomination acceptable to the Senate, when he will gladly relinquish the place. There is not much likelihood that Cummings' nomination will be touched at present, [illegible] many Pennsylvania politicians are urging [illegible]

[illegible]

Recent events in Cuba have brought [illegible] facts [illegible] comparatively small [illegible] carefully guarded [illegible] who [illegible] has been very prominent in Mr Johnson's mind since the Spanish bombardment at Valparaiso. Soon after that event a Senator in close sympathy with the President sounded the Committee on Foreign Relations to ascertain how far the Republicans would support the President in a direct seizure of Cuba. Leading members of that committee opposed it and so did Mr Seward. The plan of the present revolution, already telegraphed as having originated here, was set on foot by the Republicans acting in concert with leading Cuban Liberals. One of the most prominent in the matter here was a general officer of distinction under Bolivar. The plan was submitted to a number of members of each House and considerable material aid is said to have been secured here. The first idea was to have a considerable number of soldiers go quietly from New Orleans, Charleston and the other Texas ports, the revolutionists on the Island to be ready to act promptly in concert with these parties. It was supposed that the Cuban authorities would of themselves be utterly powerless to check the movement and that as it would require more than thirty days to get any aid from Spain the possession of the whole island could be gained. This was to be followed by those interested in the two houses of Congress here, either in recognition of a Republican Government there or by the annexation of the island and in the creation thereof of a regularly organized State Government. The first date fixed for the breaking out of the revolution was early last winter, but satisfactory arrangements could not be completed and the blow was postponed till the 22d of last February. There was a failure in this occasion and on both occasions the failures were caused by the unexpected watchfulness of the Cuban authorities. As soon however as the late troubles assumed a grand character in Spain it was believed by the leaders in this plan that a favorable time for the movement had arrived, and the insurrection began. The opinion is daily gaining strength here that the revolutionists will finally succeed.

SITE FOR THE EXECUTIVE MANSION

The bill introduced in the Senate by Mr Morton provides for the purchase of about thirty acres of land on Madison Hill near Washington, as a site for the Executive Mansion and appropriates $125,000 for such purpose.

EX SECRETARY STANTON

Edwin M Stanton returned to his practice in the Supreme Court to day remarking to his friends that he had withdrawn from politics.

THE GEORGIA CASE

The Senate Committee on the Judiciary formally considered the Georgia question, but came to no conclusion owing to the absence of one of the members. It was decided that the bill prepared by Senator Edmonds should be presented as it was to day and referred to that committee to be taken up after the recess. This is regarded as foreshadowing Congressional action on the subject. There may be some addition made to the bill, such as that proposed by Mr Stewart, for the punishment of holding office contrary to the Fourteenth Amendment. The action of the committee thus far is in accordance with the views presented by Governor Bullock at the commencement of the session.

THE NEW YORK WHISKY FRAUDS

Unanimous consent was given in the House to day for General Van Wyck to present on Monday a report from the Committee on Retrenchment. It is generally understood that the report will justify Mr Rollins while it censures the President for his suspended indictments against the Kentucky Bourbon Company. A full statement concerning one of the New York distilleries is made.

How To Cook a Beefsteak

The great majority of farmers' wives fry beef instead of cooking it in a more rational manner and one that would render it more savory and nutritious. This method of cooking beefsteak is probably adopted because it effects a saving of butter, and is therefore thought to be economical. But it is bad economy to fry beef; its texture becomes very hard, its volume shrinks and it is tasteless and indigestible. All the rich, sweet and nutrient juices are abstracted from the meat by the boiling fat and are in a great measure rendered volatile and are lost in the air. A stomach that digests lean beef fried to a crisp in boiling lard need not despair of dissolving shoestrings or uncooked rinds of pork.

Broiling is much the preferable way to cook a beefsteak, where good wood coals are to be had. But as many Western farmers burn soft coal they are obliged to forego the use of this most palatable dish. To such we present the following method of cooking a beefsteak which we find going the rounds without being credited. The frying pan being wiped very dry place it upon the stove [illegible] hot. In the meantime mangle the steak if it chance to be sirloin [illegible] better [illegible] and salt it, then lay it in the hot dry pan which instantly cover as tight as possible. When the raw flesh touches the heated pan of course it seethes and adheres to it, but in a few seconds it becomes loosened and juicy. Every half minute turn the steak but be careful to keep it as much as possible under cover. When nearly done lay a small piece of butter upon it and if you want much gravy add a table spoonful of strong [illegible] In [illegible] from the time the steak first goes into the pan it is ready for the table. This method of cooking makes the most delicious delicately broiled steak full of juice yet retaining the healthy beef flavor that any John Bull could require. The same method may be applied to mutton chops, only they require a little longer cooking to preserve them from being raw. An excellent gravy may be made for them by adding a little cream thickened with [illegible] into which [illegible] the [illegible] partly [illegible] the yolk of an egg well beaten.

[illegible]

An English gentleman who spent some time in this country a year or two ago, in a private letter from England says, "I used to think we were ahead [illegible] of party struggles. I have learned [illegible] recently since I returned [illegible] cowardly slander and lying are the great instruments of party controversy with us. You may think matters are pretty bad sometimes. But [illegible] writes like a gentleman compared with some of our journalists. We think our English friends are gradually finding out that there is a good deal of human nature [illegible] and that it crops out on their side of the Atlantic as well as ours. We think moreover that we can fairly say that journalism in this country is improving in tone and temper as well as in ability and fairness of discussion, while in England we are inclined to think it is going backward in manners and decorum at all events.—N. Y. Times

It is rumored, says Punch, that Calcraft the hangman is writing the history of hanging, and the late [illegible] abolition of public executions. He intends to call it "The Decline of the British Hempire."

Odds and Ends

President Lincoln's manuscript of his message [illegible] Minnesota has been presented to the Minnesota Historical Society.

Robert Hoe, the printing press inventor, was a [illegible] in Leicestershire, England, where he was born and from whence he emigrated to this country.

An announcement fearful in its significancy is the baldness of the Empress of the French. If it be true the question is how long will it take the fashion to reach America?

A [illegible] gentleman at the late disaster on the [illegible] finding that he could not get off the burning boat went to his stateroom and lay down in order that he might gratify himself by dying in bed.

An Indiana man who has had the experience of [illegible] expresses himself in favor of divorce rather than [illegible] as far as the matter of economy [illegible] means of disposing of a [illegible]

The [illegible] papers at last have told on the circulation of the London Times to such an extent that that mighty organ has at length been forced to reduce its price to three pence a number.

It is said that artificial eggs, quite as good as the real ones, are manufactured in Troy, N. Y., and sold for fifteen cents per dozen. The hens will soon have to lay cheaper eggs or else stop laying.

An Irish pedagogue recently informed his pupils that the feminine gender should be applied to all ships and vessels afloat, except mail steamers and men of war. A young America replied "I can't see it. I never heard of men being called feminine before."

In Florida, there is a negro justice of the peace who decided a case recently in a perfectly impartial manner. After listening to the evidence he ordered the plaintiff and defendant to pay a fine of one dollar each and the constable to pay the costs of court.

Henry C. Carey, of Philadelphia, has been elected member of the Royal Academy of Science of Sweden to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Lord Brougham. This is a deserved compliment to an American political economist whose works are known and studied all over Europe. They have recently been translated into the Magyar and Russian tongues.

THE YANKEE SCHOOLMARM.—It is evident that the Yankee system with modifications is destined to prevail over the fairest parts of this continent, if not finally over the best portions of the other. It prevails already in the West as far as San Francisco the famous Vigilance Committee of which was a veritable town meeting. Wherever the Yankee soldier has tramped the Yankee schoolmarm will teach. Noble and chivalric gentlemen may throw stones at her windows, burn her schoolhouse, drive her from their neighborhood, but she reappears (she or her cousin) and the work of Yankeefication proceeds. First, Julius Cæsar, then Roman civilization, then Christianity. The soldier must always go first and open the country. In this fortunate instance the gentle and knowing schoolma'am quickly follows the man of war and she is preparing the way for the gradual reorganization of the South upon the general plan of New England towns. It is hard for the noble and chivalric gentlemen to bear, but it seems inevitable. The Carolinas may object, and Georgia expel, Texas may slay, and Louisiana [illegible],—it will not avail, this is the fate in reserve for them. The Yankee schoolma'am is extremely addicted to writing long letters home, which go the round of the village, are carried into the next county, and are sent at last to circulate by mail over all the land. [illegible] and powerful some of her letters are, and New England knows her new conquest in this way. The schoolma'am's lover has thoughts of settling there when the land itself is "settled."

Her uncle the capitalist has long had an eye on those rich lands, those unused water courses, those mines and quarries. She is merely one of the first to [illegible] the path worn by the army shoe stamped U. S. A.—James Parton in the Atlantic Monthly for January.

General Grant like Mr Lincoln, it seems can tell "a little story" when occasion demands it. A correspondent of the New York Times writes:

It is stated that at the late dinner given to the President elect by Mr A. T. Stewart conversation turned on the subject of the naturalization frauds which enabled the Democrats to carry New York for Seymour, and the amounts of money spent by prominent individuals to secure the election of their favorites. Some one jocosely turned to Gen. Grant and asked him how many speeches he had made, and how much money he had spent to secure his election. He said in reply that he had expected when he accepted the nomination of the party to be more roundly abused during the campaign by the newspapers of the other party than he had been and he had early resolved to let all abuse pass unnoticed. He had heard years before of a farmer in the West who had been repeatedly urged to run for Congress and who at last consented, on condition that he was not to be asked to make a speech or write a letter during the canvass. He was nominated, and soon after it was rumored far and near that he was in the habit of stealing his neighbors' hogs. He rushed into print and mounted the stump, indignantly denying the charges, throwing them back (in the usual style) into the teeth of his villifiers. Of course he proved his innocence [illegible] of his listeners. By no means [illegible] his neighbors' hogs had [illegible] strayed into his inclosures and [illegible] they proved it on him. "I was afraid to deny any charges," he added with a smile, "for fear they'd prove it on me." The moral of which story, especially dedicated to politicians, is "make denials and explanations only after an election" as Grant did in the Jew order case.

We hope that when the man who first nominated Grant succeeds in button holing the president elect and narrates his claims [illegible] he will meet with a better reception than did the man who first nominated Lincoln. Mr Lincoln said that unfortunate individual: "my dear friend one moment in private." Then drawing the President aside he whispered in his ear these startling words: "[illegible] first man [illegible] President." "Did you?" returned Mr Lincoln starting back with indignation. "Well Sir see what a mess you have got me into."—N. Y. Tribune

A NEWSBOY'S REVENGE.—A party writes to the New York Express saying:

I yesterday saw a cowardly fellow [illegible] as a gent and lounging for the enchantment of servant girls at a metropolitan church rendezvous [illegible] kick a newsboy for pestering him to buy an Evening Express. The lad's revenge was ingenious and complete. He waited till another [illegible] and then shouted in the hearing of all [illegible] It's no use to try him, [illegible] read.

It was better to be a good healthy worker than to be worth a million of dollars and writhing with gout. He would rather be a worker and kept busy than to have time enough to get drunk."

A man in Holyoke, Massachusetts, who owned a fine fat hog, was unfortunately indebted to another man five dollars. The creditor bought a two dollar pig, presented it to the debtor, and then lawfully attached the grown up hog, realizing thirteen dollars by his sharp practice.

CHEMISE—THE WORD AND THE THING.—Why women will call their first undergarment a chemise is not easy to understand. Chemise means merely shirt and nothing else and its meaning is not changed or its sound improved when it is pronounced shimmy. Shirt is the original English name for this garment as well as the corresponding garment of men. See the following passage from Gower's Confessio Amantis:

> Jason his clothes on him cast
> And made him redy right anon,
> And she her sherte did upon
> And cast on her a mantle close
> Withoute more and then arose

But women wishing, as well they might, to distinguish this part of their dress from that of a man called it properly a shift, (See Johnson's dictionary.) Smock is much better than chemise and has like shift the support of long usage by the best speakers and writers. I have heard an Englishwoman of high rank and of unimpeachable propriety [illegible] speak of her smock just as frankly and simply as she would speak of her shoe or her bonnet. If a woman wish to say that she wears a shirt, let her say so. She says nothing else when she speaks of her chemise.—Richard Grant White.

Senator Morton's Resumption Scheme

Senator Morton's bill, which has been undertaken to [illegible] looking to the resumption of specie payments, [illegible] the business interests of the country. His scheme is this: 1. That on and after the 1st day of July 1871 the Treasury of the United States shall redeem in coin all notes and fractional currency presented for redemption. 2. That hereafter there shall be no sales of gold belonging to the Treasury, but that all gold in excess of what is needed for interest on the public debt shall be hoarded until the day fixed for redemption. 3. That the National Banks shall reserve and hold in their vaults all coin received by them as interest on their bonds held by the Government for the redemption of their notes, and that they shall redeem their notes in coin on and after January 1, 1872, or six months after the Government begins to redeem, meanwhile keeping their legal tender reserves in their vaults until that date. This is proposed in order to prevent the banks from drawing gold from the Treasury when the Government commences redeeming its notes. 4. That the Secretary of the Treasury shall have power to sell bonds for gold at their market price, in such amounts as may be necessary to enable the Government to redeem its notes. 5. That the Secretary of the Treasury may cancel as many of the redeemed notes as may in his judgment be necessary to the proper liquidation of the currency, provided that all fractional currency that may be redeemed shall be cancelled. 6. That greenbacks shall cease to be legal tenders after January 1, 1872—three years hence.

This scheme has awakened very general discussion throughout the country. The most influential portion of the public press combat it, though generally approving some of its features. But many who argue against the scheme have no hesitation in admitting that if enacted into a law it will bring about specie resumption within the time named. Their objection to it is that it would cramp and "corner" the business of the country for two and a-half years, while the Treasury was getting ready for redemption.

More Wisdom from the Salem Organ

INEXCUSABLE IGNORANCE.—The OREGONIAN seems to labor under the hallucination that a Legislative body summoned to sit in extra session can [illegible] laws and introduce such matters as may be [illegible] up in the fertile brain of any member of the body. It ought to know that a Legislative body thus summoned can only take action upon and consider such business as may be set forth in the proclamation and message of the Executive. No principle is better supported by precedent than this.—Unionist.

It is provoking to see what an insufferable ass the Unionist is making of itself. The Legislature, when convened in extra session, has the same powers it possesses when it meets in the regular way. There is nothing in the Constitution or in usage to restrict its powers when assembled by proclamation of of the Governor. The idea that it must on such occasions confine itself to the measures recommended by the Executive in his proclamation and message, has no foundation whatever. In his proclamation convening the Legislature in extra session in 1866, the Governor merely stated that "certain measures highly important to the interests of the State and nation" demanded attention. In his message he recommended the adoption of the [illegible] amendment abolishing slavery, the [illegible] of a Registry law, and one or two additional measures of less importance, but the Legislature went to work on an extensive scale, considered a multitude of bills, many of them having no reference to the [illegible] suggested by the Governor, and enacted a very large number of general and special laws. Yet the Unionist is absurd enough to assert that only those measures [illegible] by the Governor can be acted upon. We wonder who it is that is "laboring under a hallucination," or is guilty of "inexcusable ignorance." It is a disgrace to journalism that such an ignoramus as drives the quill of the Unionist should set himself up to [illegible] the public. If the present Ku-Klux Legislature should be convened in extra session they would quickly show that they could assume powers enough.

[illegible] IT.—Will our two Democratic [illegible] are making so much ado over the "negro outrages" in Georgia just give their attention a moment to what the dispatches of to-day say upon the subject? We have learned by experience that rebel reports of such matters are not worthy of a moment's credit. When the atrocious massacre of negroes took place at Camilla, Georgia, last summer, the rebel telegraphic reports began to talk about it as a "terrible outrage by negroes," so in the present case they telegraphed sensational reports to the same effect all over the country. When the truth is ascertained it is found that [illegible] of negroes, trembling for their lives, are hiding from the valiant chivalry, whose anger was excited because the negroes [illegible] their share of the crops according to the contract. The arms of these terrible negro fiends consisted of three guns and an old bayonet, and this is the case which has aroused the whole Southern chivalry and set the entire Copperhead press of the North to screeching with the most intense indignation.

RESOLUTION OF CENSURE.—The resolution condemning the financial propositions of Johnson's message passed the Senate on the 17th December with only six dissenting votes—the six being Davis and McCreery of Kentucky, Saulsbury of Delaware, Whyte of Maryland, and Patterson of Tennessee. Even such Copper-Johnsons as Dixon, Doolittle and Norton could not endorse the acting President's dishonorable propositions. The following is the resolution of censure:

Resolved, That the Senate properly cherishing and upholding the good faith and honor of the nation, do hereby utterly disapprove of and condemn the sentiments and proposition contained in so much of the late annual message of the President of the United States as reads as follows:

[Then follows the paragraph in reference to liquidating the public debt.]

WONDERFUL PRUDENCE.—The Salem paper is still entreating the Governor to assemble a Democratic rabble and a riotous ring of irresponsible ruffians at the Capital to vote away the money of the State. Discreet counsellor! The Unionist is about prudent and consistent in this as its proprietor was three years ago when for the sake of retaining an official position he supported Johnson in his efforts to disrupt and destroy the Union party. Hunger and thirst for public pap leads some people into very strange and contradictory positions.

GOLD CONTRACTS.—The Eastern journals generally express the hope that Congress will legalize gold contracts. It seems clear that if this were done gold and silver would gradually return into the channels of business and that by this means the general resumption of specie payments might be greatly facilitated.

The Popular Vote for President

In the following table the vote for President in 1868 is compared with the vote for President in 1864:

Nebraska	9 727	5 439
	453,849	441 873

Grant's majority, 11,976.

The whole vote of the Union in the late election was 5,786,920 and Grant's majority 367 032. Three States, Virginia, Mississippi and Texas did not vote. Florida chose Electors by her Legislature. In this way the States of Vermont, New York, Delaware, South Carolina, Georgia and Louisiana chose their Electors in 1824.

The Democratic Quarrel

The New York World publishes a long article in defence of Belmont who has been savagely assailed by the greater portion of the Democratic press upon the ground of his alleged neglect of duty as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. The charge of his not even taking the trouble to vote the World answers by saying that he had large bets on the election. In the course of its article the World incidentally mentions that the Democrats in other States than New York did not subscribe very generously to the campaign fund while at the same time they were incessant in their demands for money. It says:

"All the money has always been contributed by about twenty Democrats in New York city and a half dozen in New York State. Not one dollar of the amount assessed by the National Committee upon each Congressional District throughout the country was ever sent in to its executive committee except by one State near the Rocky mountains which followed up its contribution of $100 by a request for $10,000." In concludes, after a fling at the "impecunious West," with the following advice to its critics:

In conclusion, we have to say that those few Democratic country journals—thank Heaven it is a class as small as it is mean—which are occupying the interval between elections by assailing those who vote with and work for the same party with themselves, should seek to realize, if they really cherish Democratic principles, that they can only advance them by ceasing to advocate them. Such envy, hatred, malice and uncharitableness as theirs drives off many honest voters in disgust and bars the way of all new converts. They make Radicalism [illegible] by the narrow minded, bitter, malignant spirit in which they advocate Democracy. They exhibit their own sincerity only by denying it to their opponents. These "husks" call [illegible] organs of the old line, dyed in the wool Democracy, he [illegible], along with the old and time honored principles of the party they have kept alive the bad passions of all its contests and the memory of its defeats.

If the Democratic masses shared their ignoble sentiments and their bitter spirit, the old party would die, and would deserve to die.

THE ENGLISH ELECTIONS.—The London correspondent of the New York Times furnishes the following statement of the number of votes cast in the recent Parliamentary elections in England, Scotland and Ireland:

	LIBERALS	CONSERVATIVES
In England	592 972	512 378
In Scotland	65 071	24,385
In Ireland	29 506	23 620
Total	687,549	560,383

Thus, there is a majority of 120,000 votes in the whole country for the Liberals. This has given them a majority of 105 members in the House of Commons. The greater part of this majority is in Scotland and Ireland,—the Liberal majority in England and Wales being only thirty six. The bulk of the majority is contributed by constituencies in which the Presbyterians, the Roman Catholics and the Dissenters, by forming a "grand alliance," carried everything before them.

THE INDIAN QUESTION.—It seems to us, says the New York Times, that the Senate proposition to create a Department of Indian Affairs, equal in rank to the War Department or Navy Department, and to put a new Secretary into the Cabinet to superintend it, is an extreme and unnecessary measure. The trouble has not been that the Indian question is too large to be handled by a Commissioner but that it has been handled badly. Neither the number of the Indians nor the pecuniary importance of the question, demands a new Cabinet officer and a new portfolio. With as much or more reason, a Cabinet officer, and an entire Department, might be demanded in place of a Commissioner, for the Internal Revenue. In fact there is no limit to which the Cabinet would not be swelled by applying such a remedy to mere abuses of existing power.

UNDOUBTEDLY.—The London Times says that the financial condition of this country would at once be elevated if Europe were led to believe that we would faithfully fulfill our contract by the payment of the debt in coin. We could get money abroad at a low rate of interest and our financial burdens would quickly be lightened. There is no doubt whatever that our securities remain at their present low point simply because there is a want of confidence in Europe as to the financial action of our Government. Twenty per cent would be added to the present price of our securities and they could be floated at an interest of five per cent if the investing class of Germany and England had a firm belief in our good faith. Yet why should there now be a doubt about it, when the people have pronounced for honesty and honor, in the election of Grant?

GEN GRANT AND THE POLITICIANS.—The Cincinnati Gazette has the following:

"In spite of General Grant's reticence enough has leaked out concerning his views of the political situation and the relation of parties to effectually check the prediction that Grant will disappoint the Republicans which slipped so glibly from Conservative lips a fortnight ago. He has talked freely regarding political matters with several prominent Republicans and while of course no portion of this conversation can be published it is not too much to say that these persons have been struck both with the clear and comprehensive view which the new President takes of public affairs and policy, and also thoroughly satisfied with the earnestness with which he supports the general features of Republican policy. The gentlemen thus satisfied are Radicals."

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO JANUARY 8

Fatal Accident at Boston

BOSTON, Jan —Yesterday afternoon the large wheel of the Boston rolling mill burst, killing two men and badly injuring a third.

Indian Policy Endorsed

DENVER, Jan —The Board of Trade last evening unanimously passed a resolution endorsing Sherman and Sheridan's Indian policy.

New Hampshire Politics

CONCORD, Jan —The Republican convention to-day nominated Onslow Stearns for Governor by acclamation.

The Backwoods, Retrograde Democracy.

LOUISVILLE, [illegible] the Kentucky House of Representatives a resolution was introduced authorizing the Governor to take such steps as he may deem proper to test the constitutionality of the Civil Rights bill.

Suffrage in Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Jan —A bill was introduced in the State Legislature to day providing for a State Convention to amend the constitution and extend the right of suffrage to those now disfranchised. An animated debate is expected to-morrow.

Policeman Killed

CANANDAIGUA, Ontario County, N Y, Jan 7 —Last night four policemen proceeded to the house of a noted character named Chapman to cause his arrest and that of Carry Chase for house breaking and burglary. Chase and Chapman resisted by drawing revolvers. Shots were exchanged and a general fight ensued. Three of the police were shot, two it is feared fatally. Chapman was shot in the arm. He and Chase escaped. Intense excitement prevails and large bodies of men are dispatched in all directions to secure their arrest.

Destructive Fire.

HUDSON, N Y, Jan 7.—The Wyoming Institute Seminary for young ladies, about the centre of this county, was destroyed by fire last evening. But few boarders were in the building at the time and no lives were lost. The loss of property is quite heavy and the insurance very light.

Not Anxious for Martyrdom

PHILADELPHIA, Jan 7.—Hester Clymer declines being the Democratic candidate for Governor.

Maine Matters.

AUGUSTA, Jan 7.—The Legislature to day re-elected all the present incumbents and prominent State officers.

The Truth about the Georgia Disturbances

CHICAGO, Jan 7.—General Sibley's report of the Ogeechee troubles says that upon his visit to the scene after hearing that a large body of armed negroes were resisting the sheriff's posse we arrived at night and found the negroes very much frightened but when we made known our intentions not to trouble them they became pacified and gave their side of the question. We found the newspaper account totally incorrect. There were about fifty men there. Three guns, one musket on the stock were all the arms I saw. If they had had others we would have seen them. There are no fortifications and no hostile demonstrations further than to watch for their own safety. The negroes against whom the warrants were issued were anxious to come in and surrender, and wanted to come with us but were afraid to come alone for fear of being fired on. They deny having resisted the posse, and I think they tell the truth. We remained with them all night and made arrangements for them to come in to night and surrender themselves to the sheriff under military escort. They will come in to night, as they were afraid to come in by daylight. The sheriff reported officially that he could not enforce the laws, and called on the military to do it.

Nominations for Office

WASHINGTON, Jan 7.—Among the nominations sent to the Senate by the President to day, were H E Dunham, for Surveyor General of New Mexico, and John B Church, Receiver of public moneys at Central City.

The Republican Senators held a caucus to day to consider Morton's resumption bill. Edmonds offered a resolution declaring that 5 20s should be paid in gold coin. No conclusion was reached by the caucus.

An official report was received at Grant's head quarters from Col. Porter, relative to affairs in Arkansas. Porter relates the condition of affairs in Arkansas prior to the organization of the militia and the declaration of martial law. He says the State government was certainly in some danger previous to the Presidential election. He fully indorses Governor Clayton's action although many conservative Republicans thought it unwise. He says the militia is under tolerable control, and that all the plundering, etc, reported by the press, is the taking of supplies under order they being instructed to live off the country. He says the Governor's course accomplished much more good than the most sanguine expected. The Governor is now disposed to relieve each county from martial law as soon as it can be done with safety. Col Porter compliments Gov Clayton as a man of considerable intelligence and nerve.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Jan 7.—In the Senate the President transmitted a letter from the Secretary of the Interior, also one from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in regard to the recent Indian battle.

Corbett presented a petition for the extension of the Pacific Railroad to Puget Sound.

Nye introduced a bill to facilitate telegraph communication between the Eastern and Western continents.

The Senate discussed the bill to prevent the holding of civil offices by the military, until the morning hour expired.

It then took up the consideration for the relief of P M Murphy which was debated without action until adjournment.

In the House the bill reported yesterday, fixing the rank and pay of medical officers in the navy was discussed for some times and finally tabled by 92 to 53.

A bill passed appropriating $1 000 to bring the remains of Coggrishal, late Minister to Equador, to the United States.

Washburne from the Committee of Appropriation reported a Military Academy bill. Ordered printed.

Washburne offered a resolution directing the Postmaster General to suspend further payments to Wells Fargo & Co, until an investigation is had in regard to the manner of executing its contracts. Johnson objected, and the resolution went over.

The House then went into a Committee on the Whole.

Coburn addressed the House at length on the subject of finances.

The Committee rose, and Ashley introduced a bill to facilitate commercial enterprise between the States and territories and with foreign countries. Referred to the Committee on Territories.

The House then adjourned.

Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, Jan 7.—The Commercial says that the clause of Wilson's bill prohibiting the payment of interest on deposits and the certification of checks has produced a strong feeling among the National banks. Should Congress sanction the clause prohibiting the payment of interest on deposits there is little doubt but many National banks will convert themselves into State institutions.

The Chamber of Commerce to day adopted a resolution declaring Congress to have the power to [illegible] jurisdiction to grant franchises to the Atlantic cable company.

Cyrus Field fell down a steep declivity near his residence yesterday and sustained severe injuries.

The Maine Senatorship

AUGUSTA, Me, Jan 7.—At the Republican Legislative caucus to night 119 votes were cast for United States Senator. Hannibal Hamlin received 75 and Lot M Morrill 44. The Chairman of the Committee stated that the gentleman who threw the blank had stated that he intended to vote for Morrill. After much discussion the motion to adjourn without delay was carried, the chair stating that if the caucus adjourned it would be without a declaration of any nomination having been made.

More Stories about Negro Outbreaks

NORFOLK, Va, Jan —In serving a writ of ejectment the sheriff of Princess Anne county was forcibly resisted by armed negroes. At his request a detachment of twenty military was sent to his assistance, when an encounter between the negroes and soldiers ensued. The Sergeant was mortally wounded and three negroes were killed. The officer commanding the detachment has applied for reinforcements. He says the negroes in the surrounding counties are arming and threaten an attack.

Miscellaneous

NEW ORLEANS, Jan —Gen Rousseau is ill almost beyond recovery with inflammation of the bowels.

NEW YORK, Jan —Mr DeWitt C Littlejohn has entered the field for the Senatorship in place of Noah Davis, retired.

NEW YORK, Jan 8.—The Sun says Gen Butler has been employed to prosecute Samuel B [illegible] in the [illegible].

The Times in speaking of the proposed meeting to express sympathy with the Cretan insurgents trusts the Government will not be urged to any interference with politics or the religious controversy with Europe with which we have no more concern than with the internal economy of [illegible].

SAVANNAH, Jan —The Ogeechee troubles are at an end. The deputy sheriff with a guard of eight soldiers brought in sixty prisoners to day.

DETROIT, Jan 7.—Governor Crapo submitted his retiring message to the Legislature to day. Never was the financial condition of the State better. The total bonded debt is $3 600 000. Governor Baldwin delivered his inaugural this P M.

From Mexico

HAVANA, Jan 7.—The steamer Imperatrice from Vera Cruz brings still later dates from Mexico. There were many rumors some claiming to have come from reliable sources that Mexico is on the eve of revolution, that the people are disgusted with the administration of Juarez, that the President is controlled by Lerdo de Tejada, that the government officials act as they please and that there is no protection for American residents. An American was murdered outside the walls of Vera Cruz shortly before the sailing of the steamer. The assassin though unknown to the authorities escaped and arrived at Havana yesterday. The Consul at Vera Cruz was unable to get justice. The Mexicans are incensed and some clamor for another war. It was reported that Gen Altree was at the head of the revolution against Juarez for the purpose of placing Porfirio Diaz at the head of the republic.

From Cuba

HAVANA, Jan 6.—By order of Gen Dulce all the statues of Queen Isabella and other symbols of the late dynasty have been removed from the public buildings and squares in the city. Gen Dulce has issued his anxiously awaited proclamation. He says: "I will brook danger and accept every responsibility for your welfare. The revolution has swept away the Bourbon dynasty tearing it up by the roots. To citizens shall be returned their rights, to man his destiny. You will receive all the reforms which you require. Cubans and Spaniards are all brothers. From this day Cuba will be considered a province of Spain. Freedom of the press, the right of meeting in public and representation in the national Cortes, the three fundamental principles of true liberty, are granted you." Gen Dulce concludes as follows: "Cubans and Spaniards, speaking in the name of our mother Spain, I adjure you to forget the past, hope for the future and establish union and fraternity."

The news from the interior is that Count Valmaseda is marching towards Bayamo. The revolutionary forces are strong in numbers, besieging Gibara and other towns. Two hundred are holding Colonel Leono in check at Lunas. The Marquis Santa Taria and General Castillo, at the head of rebel bands, remain in the neighborhood of Puerto Principe. Provisions are arriving at Santiago for the troops and the famishing people in the interior.

FROM THE NORTH

Victoria, Jan 5 —The report in relation to the total destruction by fire of the garrison buildings at the mouth of the Stekin, was exaggerated The only building consumed was one used as a temporary hospital and store room

Further news from Sitka states that that place is now nearly depopulated The Winged Arrow sailed in Decembr for St Petersburg, with nearly 300 passengers

The pile driver used in the construction of the bridge over James' Bay fell yesterday, severely injuring three men and otherwise doing considerable damage

Victoria, Jan 4 —The Hudson Bay Company's steamer Otter returned from Sitka and northern ports yesterday, with fifty five passengers

The garrison buildings, with all the supplies, at the mouth of Stekine river, were destroyed by fire about four weeks ago

Capt Kenny, of the U S army at Sitka, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head, shortly before the Otter left

The news from the Queen Charlotte coal mines is encouraging

It is feared the wrecked bark Delaware, ashore near Esquimalt, will prove a total loss

The past week has been very stormy

The Spanish Peasantry

Bull Run Russell writes that the condition of the Spanish peasantry is truly heart-rending The Government's help is tardy and inefficacious, and as winter closes in the distress cannot fail to reach a terrible climax In the towns thousands of laborers out of employment are provided with what is called "work" No less than sixteen thousand men are now doing in Madrid what might be expected from one fourth of their number Paid at the rate of seven reals (one shilling, five and a half pence) a day under little or no inspection unprovided with proper implements, these poor wretches are mere beggars under the flimsy disguise of laborers They work as little as they can manage and they even "strike" to be free from that little They insist upon being paid on rainy days when no work is practicable on the good ground that bad weather does not interfere with their good appetite They will hear of no different rates of remuneration, they contend that the wages should be the same for good or bad workmen and admit no difference in behalf of assiduous industry or skilled labor What is done in Madrid becomes the rule for other large centers of population It is impossible to reason with a starving people impossible to leave it to perish so long as the community can minister to its wants Should the government come off successful from the struggle its claims upon the gratitude of the country will be unbounded The London Spectator wishes to convey a distinct impression that General Prim is playing either for a dictatorship or an imperial crown He is accumulating troops in Madrid he is carefully weeding the army he is making himself popular by every variety of military concession and military sternness and he does not fix a date for the meeting of the Cortez

Wooden Railways

A correspondent of the Montreal Gazette gives this interesting account of a wooden railway now in operation at Clifton in Northern New York near the Canada line and on which immense quantities of iron ore are transported from the Adirondack mines

The grading is the same as for an iron road except that steeper grades can be ascended The ties are of the ordinary length but are not squared on any side and ... flat on the ... except on the ... where there are three ties to every two yards In future however the engineer proposes ... three ... to two yards as he proposes ... The rails are ... but in future their shape will be altered ... without increasing the quantity of timber making them three and a half inches ... by seven inches deep ... to be better adapted ... increased weight ... of ten) Notches are cut in the ... ties to such a depth as to keep the bottom of the rail about two inches from the ground ... After the road is ballasted and the rail projects sufficiently above the notched tie to allow the flange of the wheel to pass The rails are fastened to the ties by a couple of hard wood wedges driven in ... the rail with ... This has the effect of making the whole superstructure ... solid mass without the addition of any spikes or pins

In making the curves the rail itself is bent to the required shape so that there is no angularity whatever in the line of rails The trestles are of the simplest description They consist of two upright sticks of square timber immediately under the rails let into a transverse stick which are braced to the sticks of timber laid lengthwise from one trestle to another ... under the line of rails in each direction ... is further supported by a similar stick of timber at each side from the head of the trestle to the base in a slanting direction ... which is let into a squared log at the base The wooden railway is not a new invention, but Mr Hulbert the engineer has succeeded in making it available without using a particle of iron in the whole structure, and has, moreover, demonstrated that such railways can be used for long distances at a moderate cost and this through a country where an iron line, as ordinarily constructed would be practically an engineering impossibility Mr Hulbert says that he is willing to contract to lay the superstructure of a wooden railway of his own improved construction at the rate of one thousand five hundred dollars American currency a mile, where maple and hemlock can be obtained at reasonable rates Since my visit I have become so convinced of the extreme usefulness of such lines of railways in developing the resources of a new country and acting as feeders to the trunk lines, that I have no hesitation in prophesying that before many years we shall find them running in all directions through the Dominion

The Theory of Getting Drunk Most of that class of persons who indulge in tippling are fully acquainted with the practice of getting boozy, but are unacquainted with the theory of how it is done. For their benefit as well as those who have never indulged in the practice, we give the following theory from the North British Review

"At the beginning of a carouse of a drunkard, alcohol stimulates the action of the heart which now sends blood rapidly to the lungs for aeration A large supply of blood disks consequently reach the brain, which is stimulated into activity The ideas of the drinker now flow rapidly—at first coherently but without control, the brain matter wastes too rapidly and delirium ensues During this time the volatile alcohol is diffusing itself through the system, converting arterial into venous blood and loading that fluid with a spirit which has a tendency to prevent change in the tissues so that the drunkard becomes stupid, falls off his chair in the stupor of sleep or if too far gone, dies of venous apoplexy

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, Jan. 8, 1869.

Gold at New York on the 7th, quoted at 135¾.

Legal Tenders at San Francisco 74@74¾. Current in this market at 74.

New York—Flour dull and nominal at $6@11 25. Chas. Dimond's market circular of Dec. 14, received yesterday, gives the following comparative prices of brands then in the market from Pacific coast: Oregon—Imperial $12, 25; Magnolia, old, $10 00; Phoenix, $9 25. California—Stockton city mills, $11 75; Santa Clara, $12 00; Standard $11 00. The circular adds: The market for Pacific coast flour is very dull and sales difficult to effect. Isthmus lots work off slowly and in small lots. Of wool it says: "A lot of 10,000 lbs. Oregon selected combings brought 45c, currency." It gives 44,700 bushels as the amount of Pacific coast wheat in store, and the following amounts of wheat and flour on the way and to arrive: Via the Horn—wheat, 621,654 ctls; flour 14,032 bbls. Via the Isthmus—flour 720 bbls.

Liverpool—wheat quoted 11s 10d@12s. It was quoted the previous day 11s 9d.

San Francisco—Flour, superfine, $4 75@4 87½; extra $5 75@5 87½. Wheat, choice milling, $1 82. Range of market, $170@$1 85. Barley, feed, $2 25@$2 30; brewing, $2 [illegible] 37. Oats, California, in active demand at $2 10@$2 25; Oregon at $2 15@$2 30.

Portland—All kinds of produce dull and mostly nominal. Shipments, however, continue to be made freely to Victoria and in limited amounts, to San Francisco. Dealers do not generally look upon the future prospects as at all flattering. The merchandise market is very quiet as is usual at this season of the year. The only feature worthy of special note is the stiffening tendency in dry goods. [illegible] the withdrawal of the opposition steamship line to New York, freights have been more than doubled; [illegible] to the advanced prices in New York of [illegible] cotton goods, has given all new stocks a [illegible] start. The old stocks will go at a slightly advanced [illegible], but all fresh arrivals will be materially higher than even present quotations. Retail trade generally dull and confined almost exclusively to city customers.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—IN THE DISTRICT Court of the United States for the District of Oregon—In the matter of H. M. Thatcher, Bankrupt. Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in said Court by H. M. Thatcher, of Marion county, Oregon, in said District, duly declared a Bankrupt under the Act of Congress of March 2d, 1867, for a discharge and certificate thereof from all his debts and other claims provable under said act, and that the 23d day of January, A. D. 1869, at 10 o'clock, A. M., is assigned for the hearing of the same before said Court when and where creditors of said bankrupt may attend and show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

R. WILCOX,
Clerk of the U. S. District Court for Oregon.
December 21, 1868. d22d1aw3wTu

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE THAT ON THE 5TH day of Jan., 1869, a warrant in Bankruptcy was issued against the estate of Solomon Peary, of Portland, Multnomah County and State of Oregon, who has been adjudged a bankrupt on his own petition; that the payment of any debt and the delivery of any property belonging to said bankrupt to him or for his use and the transfer of any property by him are forbidden by law. That a meeting of the creditors of said bankrupt to prove their debts and to chose one or more Assignees of his estate will be held at a Court of Bankruptcy to be holden at Hill & Mulkey's office, before W. Lair Hill, Register, on the 13th day of February, A. D. 1869, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

CHANGE OF NAME!

MERCADO & CO., SUCCESSORS TO Mercado & Scully have been obliged for their own protection and the safety of the public, to change the name of their celebrated Bitters to

MERCADO'S

Native California Wine

BITTERS

We subjoin the following affidavit in an injunction suit formerly pending between Mercado & Scully, plaintiffs, and G. A. Simon, defendant:

P. Sainsevain, being duly sworn, says, "That the article known as Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters was manufactured by Mercado & Scully, about the month of March 1861, without them Sainsevain Brothers having any concern in the manufacture thereof. The deponent has always known and considered said Mercado & Scully as the Sole Proprietors of the Sainsevain California Wine Bitters."

Notwithstanding the above affidavit the said P. Sainsevain is putting up a compound under the name of Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters, representing it to be the same as our celebrated bitters, which we have been manufacturing and selling in immense quantities since 1860, and also affixing a nearly similar label to that used on our genuine Wine Bitters. BE NOT DECEIVED! Send for

NATIVE CALIFORNIA WINE BITTERS,

And you will obtain the same popular beverage so favorably known since 1860. Beware of Counterfeits! Purchasers of our Wine Bitters are requested to observe the familiar old yellow label, and see that the words, "MERCADO & SCULLY, SAN FRANCISCO," are engraved on the Government stamp pasted over the cork of each bottle. This is the only effectual security against the counterfeit imitations.

Depot—506 and 508 Jackson street, San Francisco.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Weekly Oregonian.

FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent, the OREGONIAN ranks first among the papers published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State, and its circulation and influence are greater than that of any other two papers combined. As a journal of enterprise in gathering the latest intelligence, and in giving in each issue a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor. It is thoroughly identified with this city and State and neighboring Territories, where the number of its readers and its influence are constantly increasing.

An unflinching advocate of sound Union principles, it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST, but to everything of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing,

AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the resources and settlement of the Northwest.

Its columns contain a carefully prepared digest of

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS

OF

Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

TELEGRAMS FROM

THE EAST AND EUROPE

are published as full as in the California journals, and put before our readers from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.

Among its corps of writers are regular correspondents at New York and Washington City, men who, having lived in this State, are able to write on Eastern affairs, both politically and commercially from an Oregon standpoint.

Its Literary and General Selections are from the best sources.

EXTENDED AND RELIABLE

Commercial Reports

are furnished every week, giving the Financial, Dry Goods, Hardware, and General Market Reports of Portland, and the latest reports by Telegraph of the San Francisco and New York markets. These reports are acknowledged to be the most accurate published in the State.

In every department it will be, as it has been, the foremost in the ranks in the field of journalism. Being firmly established, it will go forward with confidence, making new improvements and fairness, and hopes to gain largely in circulation and support.

TERMS:

One Year	$3 00.
Six Months	2 00.
Three Months	1 00.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN has been a favorite paper for sending to friends in the East. It will be mailed from the office at subscription rates.

Subscribers will find on each paper, with their names, the date on which their subscriptions expire, as entered on our books. In renewing, the names of subscriber and post office should be distinctly written.

All papers are discontinued at the end of the time for which they have been paid, the date of which is always printed with the name each week.

REMIT BY MAIL AT OUR RISK, in presence of Postmaster, or pay to the nearest authorized agent.

We ask our friends to aid us in extending the circulation of the OREGONIAN in every direction.

The proprietor is so fully [illegible] INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE or REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eye no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or [illegible] the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, [illegible] and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in [illegible] Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to [illegible] following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE, NATHANIEL [illegible]
A. L. WALLACE, G. E. WARD [illegible]
Mrs. MONTGOMERY, JOHN M. [illegible]
W. D. PORTER, ROB'T [illegible]

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the disease [illegible] eased eyes are advised to give this [illegible] the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY [illegible]
